THIS WEEK'S POP PICK

“Juuni Senshi Bakuretsu Eto Ranger” - Studio Shaft

“Juuni Senshi Bakuretsu Eto Ranger,” or “12 Warriors Explosive Eto Rangers” is a show following 12 animal spirits, who represent the 12 animals of the Chinese zodiac. They live on the island Mugen, which is home to the Novel Pole. The Novel Pole contains Novel Worlds based on every story or myth ever created, and keeps Mugen floating above the ocean below.

When Jyarei King Nyanma begins attacking the Novel Pole with her Jyarei Monsters, the 12 Eto Rangers are tasked by Mugen’s ruler Princess Aura to repair the Novel Worlds. They travel to each world using Kirinda, a sentient space-time transmitting machine. Once they reach the Novel World, three to five of the Eto Rangers are able to enter the world to defeat the Jyarei Monster. They have two days to complete the task, or the Jyarei Monster will destroy the Novel World, which will destroy the Novel Pole and drop Mugen into the ocean.

“Eto Ranger” sounds silly at first, but it is such a fantastic show. It’s humorous and light-hearted, but toward the end starts to reveal the much darker tones of the plotline. The familiarity of the stories from the Novel Worlds combined with the fun cast of characters makes the show so much fun to watch. Despite the lovable cast of main characters, Kirinda is my personal favorite – he’s silly and sassy, and without giving spoilers, his backstory is one of the best in the show.

Overall, if you’re in a silly goofy mood, I recommend giving “Eto Ranger” a watch. You won’t be disappointed.
