

Photo

International Food Festival

Chocolate mousse from France, brats and sauerkraut from Germany and pork fried rice from China at the International Food Festival.

Students enjoying culturally inspired food and drinks in Centennial Hall. The Student Activities Board co-hosted the food festival with International Programs in honor of International Mother Language Day, Feb. 21.

Cake, coffee and a pork fried rice dish served at the festival.

A student getting pork fried rice in exchange for a red ticket.

The flags of countries represented at the food festival stand behind the booths.

A student giving a red ticket to a server to get different culturally inspired foods.

A menu placed on a table, displaying the food options from China and Thailand.

Students getting foods from the booths.

French Chocolate Mousse on platters at the International Food Festival.

Individuals looking at the many options at the festival and hearing the history behind them.

Flags standing beside food booths.

Napkins of national flags decorating the tables.

A student enjoying the culturally inspired foods.

Students, members of the Student Activities Board and International Programs at the International Food Festival in Centennial Hall, Feb. 21.