

Photo

Students Join in Unity March on Campus

1. Natan Gomez, a student and member of the Student Activities Board thanking the crowd for coming to the march and saying a few words about unity and discrimination.

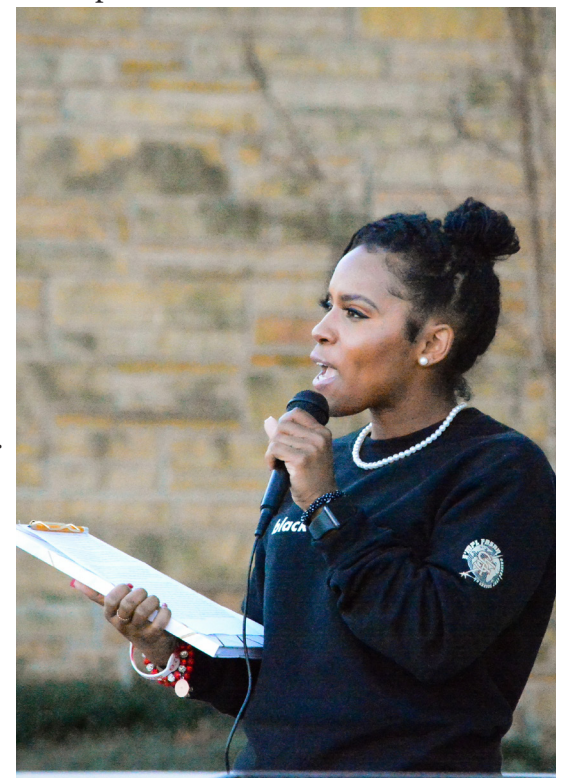

3. Students begin the Unity March at the Carl R. Reng Student Union on Heritage Plaza Lawn. Close to one hundred students, staff, faculty and A-State community members joined in the march around the A-State campus.

2. A group of students walking for unity.

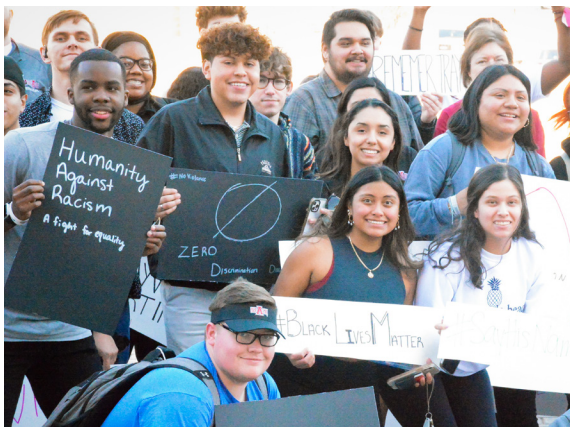

4. The students and A-State community members gathered to take part in the Unity March for Zero Discrimination Day, March 1.

7. Candace Evans speaking to the crowd of marchers, "If you truly want to see a change, it starts with us."

5. A student holding a sign, walking in the Unity March on campus. 6. Marchers with signs celebrating Zero Discrimination Day.

8. Students with hand-made signs, displaying sayings of unity.

10. Student Activities Board members leading the Unity March in front of the Humanities and Social Sciences Building and carrying the banner with signatures of the marchers for Zero Discrimination Day.

9. The crowd gathered at Heritage Plaza Lawn to listen to Candace Evans