

Photo

The 36th Lit'l Bita Christmas Show

1. (From left to right) Mother daughter duo, Jan and Jordan Pugsley, attended the Lit'l Bita Christmas on Nov. 11-13 with their business J's Creations at the First National Bank Arena.

2. Wizard wands were available at The Magic Apothecary booth owned by Kori Partovi.

3. The business, Link x Nea, helped customers put on or adjust permanent jewelry.

4. An overlook at the lower level of the Lit'l Bita Christmas booths.

7. (From left to right) Lolly owners, Russ and Meredith Pierce, attended Lit'l Bita Christmas to sell their gourmet pops.

5. Jason Mace, owner of Signs By Design, gave a sign engraving demonstration.

6. Santa cam ornaments were purchasable at the Crafting Mom of 3 booth.

9. Two women shopped at the Kjames Creations booth owned by Jim and Karen Hayes.

10. (Photo to the left) Door hangers and more were available at the Made for You by Harines, Morris and Baker booth.

8. Small containers of salsa mixture were being sold at the Simple Salsa booth owned by David and Debi Segraves.

For more photos from the Lit'l Bita Christmas event go to astatetheherald.com

Photos by Jessica McMillan | Photo Editor