

Strong-Turner Alumni Chapter hosts soul food dinner

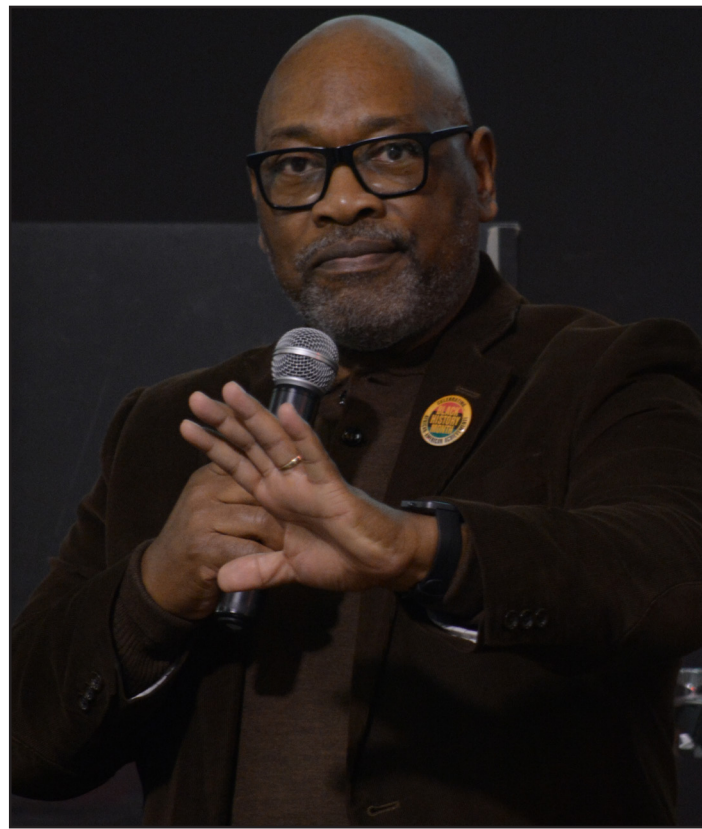

1. The crowd stands for "The Star-Spangled Banner" followed by a singing of "Lift Every Voice," the Black national anthem.

2. Guest speaker Shunqetta N. Cunningham during her recital of the poem "Hey Black Child." During her speech she talked about mentorship and making Arkansas a better place for Black children.

3. Evette Allen Moore, the president-elect of the Strong-Turner Alumni Chapter, introduced the dinner's guest speaker.

4. Lonnie Williams gave the announcements and recognitions at the dinner. He specifically recognized Chancellor Todd Shields for refusing to get rid of A-States' diversity, equity and inclusion initiative.

6. Chancellor Todd Shields gave greeting remarks to guests.

5. Provost Calvin White being served at the Strong-Turner Alumni Chapter Soul Food Dinner. The dinner was hosted in the Baptist Collegiate Ministry building on campus.

Photos by Jack Douglas | Photo Editor